

Journée internationale « The future of the CAP – L’avenir de la PAC »

22 juin 2018 – à Montpellier Supagro

June 22, 2018 – Montpellier Supagro (France)

2 place Viala – Montpellier

Room Philippe Lamour

Suite au colloque « Politiques agricoles et alimentaires : trajectoires et réformes » des 20 et 21 juin à Montpellier, une journée de débats avec des intervenants invités et des tables rondes est organisée sur l’avenir de la PAC le vendredi 22 juin. Y seront présentées et discutées les orientations de la PAC 2020 autour de la problématique générale : la PAC permet-elle les innovations institutionnelles, économiques et techniques capables de répondre efficacement aux défis de demain ? Cette journée est organisée par la SFER avec l'appui des Fondations européennes pour l'agriculture durable et l'alimentation, de l'Institut Agronomique et Méditerranéen de Montpellier et de Agropolis Fondation.

Following the 20-21 June conference in Montpellier on “Agricultural and food policy: trajectory and reforms”, the French Society for Rural Economy (SFER) is organizing a one-day symposium on “The future of the CAP” on 22 June in Montpellier, France. The objective of the day is to have scientists, policy makers, civil society actors, foundations, NGOs and professionals discuss the general theme of “How can the future CAP foster innovative actions?”

Inscription et paiement /Registration and payment : <https://www.sfer.asso.fr/event/view/30>

Program

8:30 - Welcome coffee

9:00 – 9:15 Opening by Dacian Ciolos, former European Commissioner for agriculture and rural development

9:15 - 10:00 The EC proposal for CAP 2020 by Pierre Bascou, DG Agri, European Commission

10:00 – 11:00 Plenary 1 - Can the CAP innovate to face the farmers' revenue crisis?

Do CAP rules and CAP instruments leave sufficient room to innovate (institutionally, economically, technically)? Can rules and instruments be adapted to foster innovative responses to the challenges faced by the agriculture and food sectors?

Speaker: Emil Erjavec, University of Ljubljana

Commentator: Hervé Guyomard (Inra)

11:15 - 12:45 Round table 1 - Can the CAP promote the agro-ecological transition?

The objective of the roundtable is to discuss and propose CAP-compatible incentives to accelerate the agro-ecological transition.

Participants: Janet Dwyer (University of Gloucestershire, UK), Pierre-Marie Aubert (IDDRI), Henriette Christensen (Pesticide Action Network Europe), Marc Duponcel (DG Agri), Tomas Ignac Fenix (European Council of Young Farmers) – Moderated by Sophie Thoyer (Supagro and SFER)

12:45 - 14:00 Lunch

14:00 - 15:00 Plenary 2 - The Brexit and its consequences for CAP

The objective is twofold: to analyse how the Brexit consequences will force the CAP to innovate in response to the new constraints and opportunities of a European Union without the United Kingdom; and to discuss the orientations of the upcoming British agricultural policy. How does the UK intend to innovate and design a policy package responding better its objectives outside the CAP?

Speakers: Alan Matthews (Emeritus Professor Trinity College, Ireland)

15:00 - 16:15 Round table 2 - How to bring CAP closer to our plates?

The objective of the roundtable is to discuss the pros and cons of integrating better the nutrition and food-related health stakes into the CAP, and if yes, how.

Participants: Gianluca Brunori (University of Pisa, Italy), Nick Jacobs (Ipes food), Aurélie Catallo (Pour-une-autre-PAC), Nikolai Pushkarev (European Public Health Alliance), moderated by Nicolas Bricas (Cirad and Chaire Unesco)

16:15 - 16:45 - coffee break

16:45 - 18:00 Séance ouverte au public – Les enjeux de la nouvelle PAC pour la France

Présentation par Eric Andrieu (Député européen)

Présentation par Frédéric Lambert, chef du service Europe et international, Ministère de Discussion avec la salle : E. Andrieu, F. Lambert, Pierre Bascou